THIRD ROW—Lieut. Sessions, Stevenson, manager; Bucheit, asst. coach; Miller, Hawkins, Barrett, D. Guild, Moffett.

The 1918 football season for DePauw was one of the most successful in the history of the school. Starting the year with but a few old men back, and the fall clouded by the "flu" ban which put many men on the sick list, Coaches Buss and Bucheit gathered the material they had in hand and whipped up a team which gave everything in the state a mighty hard race. There were none of last year's backfield men who returned to school and the entire backs had to be built up of the first year men. In this the coaches were very fortunate in finding an exceedingly lively lot among the freshmen class. By the time the season was over we had the speediest and hardest hitting backfield in Indiana. In every game this inexperienced lot ran rings around the opposing teams. With the return of this group next year it looks as if there will be nothing in the West that can stop them. Our line was composed of a bunch of hard working, fighting men who made their opponents know that they were coming up against something when they met them. Only two men will be lost from this aggregation and with the return of some stars from service and the entry of some promising freshmen, DePauw must be counted in among the contenders for Western honors next year.

EDBERT C. BUSS

In the capacity of Director of Athletics and head of the Physical Education Department, Coach Buss has made possible more winning teams than it has been DePauw's privilege to boast in any single year of our recollection.

"NEWT" CARLISLE

"Newt" was a suitable running mate for Captain Guild and this pair of ends was not paralleled in the state. Rarely did an end run get past "Newt" and in forward passing his catches were miracles. His speed and strength fitted him also for the backfield when he was shifted in emergencies.

CAPTAIN "BUN" GUILD

"Bun" was a new sort of captain for this year's eleven. He was not the leader of his men through any slave driving tactics, but rather by setting an example for them of clean, hard fighting. "Bun" played right end throughout the year and was recognized as one of the best in the state.

"BIG" SMITH

"Smittie" was known and feared all over the state. This was evidenced by the fact that opposing backfield men always considered our right tackle the first and chief of the barriers when a play was directed toward him. This year completes "Smitty's" service for the Old Gold, having played two years on the varsity.

FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

"Stevie" made a record this year as Student Athletic Manager. He filled the bill exactly and through his never ceasing efforts the managing end of athletics were kept up in great shape. This is one of the important duties of college sports and "Steve" more than earned the letter he received.

"CURT" CURTIS

Curtis was another freshman who needed only an opportunity in order to show his ability. His speed and lightning-like dodging made him an exceptionally hard man to tackle and once he hit the open field he was gone.

BOB GIPSON

Bob stepped into fast company last fall and acquitted himself like a veteran. Another member of our freshman backfield, he is exceedingly fast and his dodging ability is remarkable. He brought the stands to their feet again and again by his quick dashes through the line for consistent gains.

CAPTAIN-ELECT "SCOUGE" GUILD

There is satisfaction in the knowledge that "Scouge" will captain the DePauw team next year. Always cool under the heaviest fire, he will instill confidence into the team which will carry them on to greater victories. He was a tower of strength on this year's eleven and an opposing team soon learned that toward left tackle was no place to send a play.

"PUNK" JULIEN

This was Julien's second season on the squad and he played the game with the same consistency that characterized him last year. While not playing a spectacular position, "Punk" could always be relied upon to smother any plays that came through his guard and open up the hole for our backfield.

"LIZ" BURTON

"Liz" made all opposing full-backs seem insignificant. He was the mainstay in our wonderful freshman backfield. While new to college football he showed a thorough knowledge of the game and his line plunging spelled destruction for the opposing team.

"STEW" NORRIS

"Stew" was the freshman quarter that so puzzled the opposing teams. An able field general, he was in addition a versatile player. He could pass, punt or run with the ball as occasion demanded.

"SKINNY" MILLER

"Skinny" was a hard fighting end. His rise was phenomenal. At the beginning of the season he was only one of many candidates but by the middle of the year he was one of the three best ends on the squad.

"IKE" WINELAND

"Ike's" fight and confidence that no team had won until the last quarter ended, brought him from the reserves of last year to the varsity. The pivot man was one of the most dependable in the line in his defensive work, and on the offensive his passes were fast and accurate.

"JAKE" JACOBS

After the first few nights' practice it was evident that "Jake" was too good for the scrubs, so he was shifted to the varsity line as right guard. There can be no regrets for that change. At breaking up line plays his work was spectacular and time after time when the heap was torn apart you would find "Jake" at the bottom having repeated one of his deadly tackles.

"BUDDY" O'NEILL

"Buddy" made his debut into varsity football circles when he so ably alternated with Norris at the quarterback position. He was exceptionally cool-headed and had an almost unbelievable knack for pulling the unexpected on the opponents.

"R's" were awarded to Barrett, Moffett Hawkins, Smith and Life for their work on the football squad all year. They should make a mighty good foundation for next year's team.

"Let's growl-l-l!" yells Tillie, and they do.

Russell Tillotson was elected to the throne of yell-leader in his sophomore year, and has held the position with honor for two years. His "Everybody up!" brings all to their feet, and they stay there until much pep is injected into the team.

As cheer-master to the Tigers, Tillie's peppy leading likened our friend Immel to a limburger cheese. "Eddie" Brackett is well qualified to fill Tillie's No. 11s next year.

SECOND ROW—Simison, Gipson, Moffett, Shoptaugh, Curtis.

THIRD ROW—Buss, coach; Stephenson, manager.

With a record of one game lost by two points and two games lost by a single point each, DePauw closed a very successful basketball season, having defeated nine of the strongest teams in the central west in one or more contests.

Capt. Carlisle, Billingsley, and Smith played their last game for the Tigers this season, and all hopes for another winning team lie in the nucleus of freshmen players who distinguished themselves in games this year. With Capt. Cannon, Miller, Curtis, Gipson, and Moffett back, chances for winning the state championship again are 1000 per cent.

BILLINGSLEY

"Dave" has played his last basketball game for DePauw, this being his fourth year on the team. Billingsley played floor guard. His consistency in throwing fouls gave him the reputation as being one of the best in the state.

SMITH

"Big" Smith played back guard. The opposing forwards were always in danger when Smittie was near. When necessity called he would jump at center—and, oh! how he could jump. This was Smith's last year on the varsity five.

CARLISLE

"Newt" was captain of this year's five. He made more baskets than any other man on the team. Carlisle made an ideal captain whose slogan seemed to be "For DePauw I will".

MILLER

"Skinny" is another Anderson product. He played center and back guard. When he got the ball and started to dribble down the floor it was a sure goal for DePauw. Miller should go large next year in basketball circles in Indiana.

CANNON

"Fuzz" came down to DePauw from Anderson where he had gained a reputation as being a real for sure basketball player. Cannon lived up to that reputation and then some. He will captain next year's team.

CURTIS

Martinsville—all-state team—no wonder DePauw had such a good team this year. Curtis got into a few varsity contests and proved he was a basketball player from "top to bottom".

MOFFETT

"Tubbie" was another member of DePauw's second varsity. He played in a few contests and showed many signs of real ability. He should develop into one of the best forwards ever turned out at DePauw.

GIBSON

"Bob" did not get into very many games, but those games that he did get into were sure fast. "Gibbie" was undoubtedly the fastest player that ever wore a DePauw suit. Bob should be a whirlwind on next year's five.

SHOFTAUGH

"Hank" won a varsity suit by hard work. He did not take part in any games, but was one of the hardest workers on the squad. "Hank" should make a good race for a position on the varsity next year.

SIMISON

"Simmie" came down to us from Notre Dame where he had handled a basketball for the Irish. He got into one varsity game and showed up well. Under Coach Buss' coaching he should prove a reliable man for next year.

REMAINDER OF BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

- May 6 Hanover at Hanover.
- May 7 Kentucky State at Lexington, Ky.
- May 8 Georgetown University at Georgetown, Ky.
- May 13 Wabash at Greencastle.
- May 16 State Normal at Terre Haute.
- May 20 Purdue at Lafayette.
- May 27 Wabash (in case of tie in the series).
- May 29 Franklin at Greencastle.

FIRST ROW—Smith, Miller, Mahaffey, Julien.

SECOND ROW—Buss, coach; B. Guild, M. Guild, Cartwright, Conklin, coach.

THIRD ROW—Ramsey, Davis, Williams.

With the opening of the baseball season last year the prospects for a winning team were very slight. Only three "D" men were left for Coach Conklin to use as a nucleus for the varsity nine. However, about twenty men reported for first call and Babe proceeded to teach them the game.

The season opened with a victory for DePauw over State Normal. One week later Indiana took the Tigers into camp by administering a 11 to 0 defeat.

Coach Conklin soon had the team in mid-season form and victories were chalked up over State Normal, Hanover, Butler, Rose Poly, Wabash, and Indiana.

The return game with Indiana was played at Greencastle on May 14. It was a glorious victory for the Old Gold and will not soon be forgotten. The game was a pitching battle between Julien and Jeffries. Arlie held the visitors to three scattered hits. The game was won in the ninth inning when Julien scored from second on a hit by Smith. The final score was Depauw, 1; Indiana, 0.

ELERY MAILAFFEY

Irish did the receiving. He was the man behind the big gun and the one who had the line that caused the visitors to swing "where they aint". This was the fighting Irishman's last season and the umpires were the only ones that were glad to see him go.

ARLIE JULIEN

Captain-elect for 1919. Arlie was the mainstay of the team last season. He pitched with his brain as well as with his arm. Julien should pilot a championship team this season.

CLYDE MILLER

"Coonie" was the skipper of the team. When it came to inside baseball Coonie was there with a capital "I". Miller pitched and fielded and he sure was a star in either position. Coonie helped the coach pull off "them squeeze plays".

WILFRED SMITH

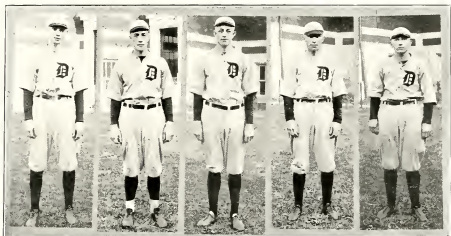

"Big" Smith held down the first sack—and held down was the word. Smittie was the only old man on the infield and his knowledge of the game helped a lot. Extra base hits were his specialty.

JOHN CARTWRIGHT

They didn't line 'em out too fast for Carty. Babe was worried about a shortstop after Rabbit left, but Carty just naturally warmed the cockles of his heart.

ROBERT BASTAIN

Bob was a baseball player a la big league. He came out late, but it did not take him long to show them that he "knew his stuff".

JAMES RAMSEY

Although Jim did not get into a varsity contest he proved that he had the ability to become a ball player. He should develop into one of the best first basemen that ever wore a DePauw suit.

MERRILL GUILD

"Scouge" played all around the infield. He should be one of the standbys in the infield that Coach Conklin is building for the coming season, as he has had valuable experience in several positions.

BERNARD GUILD

"Bun" played more positions than any other man on the team. He started the season at third but was switched to right field. High flies and hot liners looked alike to Bun. He even pitched one game and got by with it.

CLARE WILLIAMS

Bill was a regular Tyrus Cobb. He stole more bases than any other man on the team, and the beauty of it was that he could steal 'em when we needed 'em. Bill played in center field and Oh, boy! did you ever see him peg?

ORVAL DAVIS

Davie was the boy that wielded the big stick. Every time Davie came up to bat the second time the fielders took another reef in their trou and beat it for the backwoods. His fielding in left field was equally as good as his batting.

MARK McCURE

This was Mac's first year on the varsity, but he held down second base like a big leaguer. When it came to settling disputes Mac was always on hand and ready to swing a "wicked first".

TRACK

THE SCORES OF THE OUTDOOR MEETS FOR 1918.

DePauw.....65	Franklin .....52
DePauw.....55	Indiana .....88
DePauw.....66	Wabash .....58

THE SCHEDULE FOR 1919 IS

May 3	Franklin at Greencastle.
May 10	Wabash at Crawfordsville.
May 17	Indiana at Greencastle.
May 31	State Meet at Crawfordsville.

Under the guidance of Capt. Herald Jones, the DePauw track team stepped into the higher circles of sportlight. Although no records were broken the Tiger thin-clads had no difficulty in winning every meet except that with Indiana. Several of the stellar athletes were lost by enlistment, but next year will welcome the return of Jones and Szold who will add greatly to the success of the team.

HUGO FISCHER

Coach Fischer came to us in the early spring of 1918 from Culver Military Academy where he had coached track and swimming for eleven years. He instilled a spirit of competition in the men and made the whole squad fight for places. By persistent efforts a team was developed which made an excellent showing in the few meets in which we participated. Much credit can be given Coach Fischer for his sincere work with the men.

CAPTAIN HAROLD JONES (left)

"Jonesey" was a real star on the squad. He had no equal in the state in the hurdles and was one of the best dash men in these parts. Captain Jones was good for fifteen points in practically every meet in which he was entered. He was a clean, manly athlete and one of whom DePauw can be and is, justly proud.

BOB BASTIAN

Bob is DePauw's most versatile athlete. He is a four letter man but his long suit is track. He is a star in the middle distance runs and was a dangerous opponent for any half-miler in the state. Bob just runs as if it was natural and usually brings home eight or ten points for DePauw. As a reward for his efforts Bob was elected captain of next year's team and we expect great things of him on the cinders.

"DUMMY" SZOLD

"Dummy" came to us with the state high school record in the quarter mile tucked away. He continued his work here and was consistently a contender for points in the quarter mile run and broad jump. "Dummy" left us to join th army, but hopes to return after the war is over and continue his good work.

LLOYD CLINE

Cline is a veteran of the Nicholson days here and showed his training in the high jump, broad jump and dashes. Lloyd could do a little of everything and filled up a weak place on the team in great shape. In his next year which will be his last we hope to see him knock down some records around these parts.

"HANK" SHOFTAUGH .

"Hank" is a freshman and a product of Greencastle High School. He literally tore things up for a first year man and was high point man for the team this year. He runs the high hurdles and takes good care of the pole vault and high jump. We predict a record for this fellow in a year or more.

TED PROUD

Ted came down to school a novice at the running game, but when Coach Fischer got hold of him we saw a real distance man develop. Ted made the boys at Purdue see a lot of his heels in the two mile run up there. He is a strict trainer and by hard work will be a man hard to beat.

"BIG" SMITH

"Smitty" is another four letter man. He can just about do anything he undertakes and the pleasing part is, that he does it well. "Smitty" tried the discus and shot for the first time and proved a success at both.

"BUN" GUILD

"Bun" is one of those fellows who can carelessly do anything and everything. He tried the weight events and the quarter mile and for a beginner improved all through the year and hopes to handle his events consistently next year.

Tennis

Wabash was the only college on the DePauw tennis schedule last spring but Bastian and Tillotson representing the Old Gold had little difficulty in winning both matches from the scarlet aggregation. In the meet at Crawfordsville, Bastian defeated Littell 7-5; 6-3 and Tillotson won over Butterfield 6-2; 6-3, but they lost the doubles after three deuce sets. In the return match Bastian again defeated Littell 6-3, 6-4, Tillotson lost to Butterfield 3-6; 6-4; 7-5 and the doubles went to DePaw 8-6; 9-7.

"Bob" and "Tilly" are both in school this year and should duplicate their performance of last year on the courts against any team on the schedule. Besides this pair of embryo McLaughlins there are several racquet wielders who are showing up well in the local tournaments and should form a good nucleus for next year's team.

Athletics

DePauw put behind it this season one of the most successful years in athletics recorded in recent years at the Old Gold institution. A state championship and a tri-state secondary championship are resting in the Tiger trophy room following the basketball and football seasons, respectively.

Not contented with secondary competition Coach Buss and his squads have hooked up with all comers in all branches of sport and the result is clearly shown on the score books. Nor have the Tiger teams confined themselves to state play, leaders of athletics in various states have been taken and in the competition DePauw has placed its brand in a decisive manner. Following the departure of DePauw from the confines of the former I. C. A. L. the growth in name and recognition of the Tiger varsity teams has been steady and rapid.

Backing by the student body has been of real quality throughout the year. Not only were all home contests marked by large attendance, but the rooting was of varsity calibre. Tiger teams were also accompanied throughout the season by followers of the squad on trips.

Interest in intra-mural sports has brought out a number of the student body so that athletics might be said to have assumed "mass" proportions. The inter-fraternity basketball championship and the inter-class women's tournaments in basketball were keenly participated in by large numbers. The gymnasium is the chapel of recreation upon the campus and with an ideal building and coaching staff at the helm, athletics at DePauw have nothing but a rosy future as put under way already this year and several years in the past.

THE "D" ASSOCIATION

SECOND ROW—Proud, Gipson, Cartwright, Curtis, O'Neil, Davis, Stevenson.

THIRD ROW—Burton, Jacob, Bastian, Isenbarger, Wineland, Miller, Shoptaugh, Cannon, Tillotson.

Sigma Delta Psi

Honorary Athletic Fraternity; founded at Indiana University, 1913; De-
Pauw Chapter established 1914; members in University: Senior, Robert
Bastian; Junior, Theodore Proud, Frederick Glossbrenner; Graduate, Wilbur
Stonex, Zaner LeMaster, James House.

Co-ed Athletics

SOPHIA M. STEESE

Director of Physical Education.

HIKING.

One of the Co-ed activities on which a great deal of effort is expended is hiking. Because of the points given for the completion of a five-mile hike within an hour this has become a popular way of gaining admittance to W. A. A.

This year twenty-five girls completed the five miles within the hour. Two made it in fifty-five minutes, three in fifty-six, and the rest in fifty-eight and fifty-nine. One girl made it only by a fraction of a second.

For ten-mile hikes points are also awarded, twenty-five being given for four such jaunts.

The girls of D. P. U. have proven their ability to be efficient and physically fit, and W. A. A. wishes that all would realize the need of stronger women to be our campus leaders.

Basketball

Basketball, the major sport of DePauw Co-eds, was marked by the great enthusiasm with which it was supported. The season was featured by the basketball dinner, the model game played at the gymnasium exhibition, and the series of three games played with the girls of Greencastle High School.

The Inter-House tournament, which marked the opening of the season, was won by Alpha Chi Omega. The Senior team was victor in the inter-class tournament which ended in the latter part of January. The final game was played between the Senior girls and the women of the faculty.

The basketball dinner was held on March seventh at the Grand Central Hotel, the victorious Senior class team was the guest of the other teams. Hand-painted placecards with miniature basketballs and short poems were one of the attractive features of the evening. At the banquet Mrs. Edgar P. Bengert was presented an honorary membership to W. A. A.

The game between the Junior and Senior class teams was played at the annual Co-ed gymnastic exhibition to demonstrate the correct playing of basketball, and to illustrate the 1919 rules.

Miss Gladys Bebout, basketball manager-elect is already forming plans for next year's tournaments, and all indications point to a successful year.

SWIMMING

Swimming at DePauw has become one of the most popular forms of athletics. Both the men and women have taken advantage of the excellent facilities provided. Classes are held regularly and instructions in life-saving have been given by Prof. Buss and have proven very successful.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

Basketball .....	Class 1919

Baseball

During the cold wintery months the most popular Co-ed sport is basketball, but with the first reign of spring and spring bonnets, begins the greatest of all sports, baseball. Class '20 had the honor of winning the inter-class tournament for two successive years, and from this class some very famous Ty Cobbs have come to light. There is an increasing interest taken in the sport and it is gradually attracting more girls. The final inter-class game has always been one of the main features of May Day. All classes are gathering pep for this last contest.

Bowling and Tennis

There was no bowling tournament this fall, due to the fact that the S. A. T. C. offered more interest than this indoor sport. A lively tournament has been planned for next fall which should break all records, according to the dope bucket.

Owing to the enforced "flu" vacation, the semi-finals of the tennis tournament could not be played off this fall as has been the custom in the past. The finals are scheduled to be played off on May Day, and the cup will be awarded. The winners of the class tournament of last year were:

Helen Hanna .....	Senior
Lillian Grundy .....	Sophomore
Doris Davis .....	Freshman

The championship cup was won by Helen Hanna.

Pageant

Under Management of W. A. A.

The position of Pageant Manager, although created in 1918, is now a permanent one on the W. A. A. Board. Pageants in DePauw have come to stay. In 1918, too, the custom of producing pageants written by students was instituted and it has proven so successful that it will be continued. The contest is closed in February of each year, and a prize of five dollars is offered the successful author by W. A.

There were four manuscripts submitted in the first contest, from which Helen Lamb's pageant, "The Fabric of the Flag" was accepted for production. It appeared in the Gymnasium on May Day, 1918, and again in the out-door amphitheatre at Rosa Bower the following week. In the second contest, held this year, Natalie Coffin's pageant, "May Revelry", submitted with five others, was chosen. It will be staged on May Day, 1919.

This spring the Pageant Manager was given an assistant, who has no seat on the Board, but who will automatically become the Pageant Manager the next fall. Janet Booth is the present assistant manager. Besides having charge of the contest, the manager, with her assistant, co-operates with Miss Steese, who directs the dances, in the production of the pageant.

Track

The Co-ed track meet, the big event of May Day morning, was postponed, on account of rain, to the following Wednesday. The meet was decidedly a success, but the enthusiasm of the May Day audience was lacking.

The events of the contest and the winners were:

Our Greeks

DePauw fraternities have been, for a number of years, subjected to a great deal of unjust and unmerited criticism, partly by people conversant with the situation, but to a greater extent by outsiders who base their judgment upon the stereotyped accounts of outrages perpetrated by Greek letter organizations, which are in actuality, very infrequent occurrences. The good of the Greek clan is apt to be too often overlooked in this chaff of criticism.

At DePauw, eleven national fraternities and eight national sororities maintain chapters. These organizations carry on their rolls more than half the entire student body. At all times they stand ready to do all in their power to promote the best interests of the school and this "all" is no small matter. More advertising of the personal sort is done for the school through the members of these organizations than would be possible for the University to conduct. A large percentage of the entering classes have come to school through Greek influence, not with the motive of "making a Fraternity" uppermost, although this is in some instances the case, but because the advantages of higher education have been placed before them in a compelling manner.

The spring house parties given by the various sororities and the week-end spike parties of the men is perhaps the greatest advertising agency of the school for through them prospective students are brought to the campus, our educational wares are displayed to them under attractive conditions, and they in turn become DePauw boosters.

Fraternities are the natural and most efficient agencies for creating "a greater DePauw" and should be encouraged.

THIRD ROW—Chas. H. Barth, William Harrigan, Ralph Jones, David E. Lilienthal, Frank Roberts, Ledger Ford, Wilbur Grose, Francis Marion Stephenson.

The Duzer Du dramatic fraternity this year enjoyed the most successful period in its history. In this time, it presented successfully the weightiest and most difficult of any plays ever produced by the organization, John Galsworthy's tragedy, "The Mob"; and launched a campaign for a Fine Arts Building, to contain an auditorium adequate to meet the needs and fulfill the promise of DePauw dramatics.

The campaign for a new theatre to take the place of the West College Auditorium was inaugurated at the club's annual initiation banquet, by David E. Lilienthal, president of the organization. He sounded the keynote of the society's aims in that motto of the campaign, "A Theatre Worthy of DePauw".

"THE MOB"—Act I.

Progress toward the accomplishment of the society's plan has already been made. Several influential leaders in the Little Theatre movement, professional actors, critics, and playwrights, in addition to numerous friends of the institution have become interested in the project, and have signified a willingness to support it.

"The Mob", a tragedy in four acts, by John Galsworthy, was the principal production presented by Duzer Du during the year 1918-19. That it was the most difficult and yet the most successful drama ever put upon a DePauw stage was the unanimous opinion of students, faculty, and critics.

In selecting a play of the weight and intellectual appeal of "The Mob" the club departed from the conventional type of college entertainment. This fact greatly impressed one of the critics, who witnessed the production, Mr. W. O. Bates, head of the Little Theatre, of Indianapolis. In his criticism Mr. Bates said, "Galsworthy's own courage in giving his countryment this sharp thrust found parallel in the selection by Duzer Du of a tragedy of such relentless logic, unshaded by anything suggesting "comic relief" for the entertainment of a college audience. That it was followed with tense attention and punctuated with applause by two large gatherings would indicate that serious drama still has its appeal for cultured people when presented with the earnest sincerity these young people put into it".

In speaking of the outstanding interpretations the critic said, "As a hero, Stephen More, David E. Lilienthal had opportunity for the gifts which have already won him recognition on the oratorical platform; faithful to the author's conception of a man, at times hesitant and again fanatical in his determination. Miss Laura Martin portrayed to a nicety the subtle restraint which is the outstanding characteristic of the difficult role of Katherine, More's wife. Miss Margaret George was delightfully ingenuous as Olive, More's little Daughter, while Halford Udell, as the Dean of Stour, Dwight Curnick, Frank Roberts, and Cassandra Love made much of telling dramatic bits.

The coaching and direction of the play was under the charge of Miss Carol MacMillan, instructor in the department of public speaking, and much of the credit for the remarkable reception of the play belongs to her. The properties were managed by Frances Cavanaugh, "make-up" was in charge of Grace Ruthenburg, and the general business management was ably handled by Wilbur D. Grose.

In order to stimulate the writing of original plays by DePauw students, Duzer Du this year introduced an innovation in the way of a program of "DePauw-made" plays. The three plays selected by the committee as worthy of production were, "Alas, Pierrot!", by Elizabeth Iliff, '20; "The Quest of the Rainbow", by Helen M. Lamb, '19; and "Mr. Bolster Sneezes", by Elizabeth Horner, '19. These plays were presented by the organization on the night of May twenty-fourth before an enthusiastic audience.

The organization now includes thirty members, its maximum membership. Election, on the basis of competitive try-outs, is held each fall. The officers for the past year were: David E. Lilienthal, President; Paul M. Isenbarger, Vice-President; Cassandra A. Love, Secretary; Frank Roberts, Treasurer.

Oratory and Debate

Due to the restrictions accompanying the regime of the S. A. T. C. in the colleges of the country, oratorical and debating activities have been at practically a standstill for this year. The same applied to DePauw, of course, so the pursuit for which DePauw is famous was dead for the year.

Plans are now in process of formulation for the renewal of debate and oratorical contests next year with even more enthusiasm than before. This spring, numerous aspirants for the honor of representing the university in the various oratorical contests are laboring over their material, so that next fall promises to produce a local contest where keen rivalry will be displayed.

From present indications, DePauw will be represented next year by a debate team which should maintain her high standard in that forensic activity. Two veterans of the 1917 team—Virgil Jackson and Chas. H. Barth, and the DePauw orator for 1917, D. E. Lilienthal, will be available, while several underclassmen have been exhibiting unusual activities in the public speaking classes. Debates are being arranged with well-known colleges throughout the Middle West.

C. and was then confronted with many financial and mechanical troubles. It weathered the storm in fine shape, however, and has proven a marked improvement over the Dailys of former years. The Daily tries to give all the news of interest to the DePauw world while it is fresh and to act as a true representative of the student and faculty

Following the spring election of the DePauw Daily staff, in the second week of April, the Old Gold campus publication has been in the hands of the youngest group of men it has known since the initial edition. Through unavoidable resignations from the staff every man who had more than one year's experience on the paper was taken from the Daily. Singularly, although the men who were left to the paper were comparatively new to it, practically all of them had seen experience on daily newspapers of note. By this coincidence the Daily staff has been enabled to keep up the tone and reputation of the paper in the unusual emergency quite as well as previous more experienced staffs have done.

The present editor, a Sophomore, heads a staff composed of two Juniors, two Sophomores and twelve Freshmen. The staff is:

Managing Editor.....	William Hutchison

The Mirage, like the class scrap, or freshman caps, is an institution, the book is the annual publication of the Junior class and attempts to record truthfully and in a permanent manner the happenings of the school year. It is as much a part of the school as is East College, even though its absence would, perhaps, not be so keenly felt.

The job is finished and the staff heaves a sigh of relief. In two weeks the 1919 Mirage will be placed upon the shelf and you, our readers, will heap your condemnations and commendations upon it, as is the fate of every year book.

The task has been no small one and our trials have been many. Only too many times has the problem seemed to be an impossible one; then, a new idea would filter through our volatile and whirling minds and we would see the clouds break about us. But such is always the fortune of staffs and we make no complaints or give no alibis for anything herein. With two months' handicap in time, and with many abnormal conditions we have produced for you a book, be it as it may.

Judge it not from any one part. Its message extends from cover to cover and it is a message of a class which has the high interests of DePauw deeply at heart. We ask your indulgence while you read and you pardon for the offense of using an "a" instead of an "o" in your name. Do not deal too harshly, consider all, the time allowed, the finances at hand and the experience of the producers. We hold no brief and hope you will be pleased.

Our most sincere thanks to you who have labored with us and for us. To those who sacrificed time and energy for the good of our book we are indeed indebted.

From our many mistakes, the next Mirage will profit, and now, all is said and done. Bear with us with no malice but with a kindly spirit. This is not a record of daily events, but a memoir to place upon your shelf, to be taken down in later years and perused as a producer of the most pleasant thoughts of the past. We greet you and bid adieu in the princely spirit of

Co-ed Daily

The regular Co-ed edition of the DePauw Daily was a feature of the May Day festivities on the campus. On this day, Saturday, May 10, the entire campus was devoted to the frolics of the women as the only day in the school year on which they have full, undisputed sway. The Daily was turned over to a feminine staff of nineteen, headed by Elizabeth Horner as editor-in-chief.

The ordinary size of the Daily was doubled by the girls, making an eight-page, five-column paper. In addition to the handling of the unusual events of the day and the usual news articles, special articles formed a large part of the publication. Important among these was the editorial appeal for open nomination, by ballot, of all student body and class officers.

The Co-ed DePauw Daily Staff, appointed by W. S. G. A., was as follows:

Elizabeth Horner.....	Editor-in-Chief
Frances Cavanaugh.....	Managing Editor
Ruth Sinks.....	Business Manager
Belinda Crane.....	Asst. Business Manager
Goldie Pyle.....	Sporting Editor

The Yellow Crab, one of our little campus pests, or pets, failed to make an appearance this spring. The cause of the failure was, it is rumored, intentional interference from outside forces. We miss the ray of sunshine this little book annually brought into our lives. We hope that Sigma Delta Chi will not grow discouraged but will carry on and that next spring and in the succeeding ones the campus will be enlivened as usual by its presence.

Delta Kappa Phi

FIRST ROW—Margretta Stevenson, June Moll, Elizabeth Hiff, Frances Cavanaugh.

SECOND ROW—Grace Ruthenburg, Catherine Holman, Margaret Laughlin, Bertha Tucker.

Delta Kappa Phi is an honorary journalistic fraternity, founded at De-Pauw University, February 19, 1919. Its purpose is to stimulate and give dignity to literary and journalistic work on the campus, to bring together women who intend to enter writing as a profession, and to give the members a practical working knowledge of the field and to acquaint them with the manuscript market. The organization further requires that its members be of good scholastic standing and that they participate in general, college activities. The girls who compose the membership have, for the most part, worked on campus publications, or they have distinguished their writing in the class-room.

A University Print Shop

With the amount of printing that is done each year by the university, the DePauw Daily and the different organizations of the school, it would seem that the next addition to our splendid equipment should be a printing shop of size capable of handling campus publications. In this building should be offices for the Daily which is at present publishing under the disadvantage of a hired press. The reasons why such a shop is needed are many and valid.

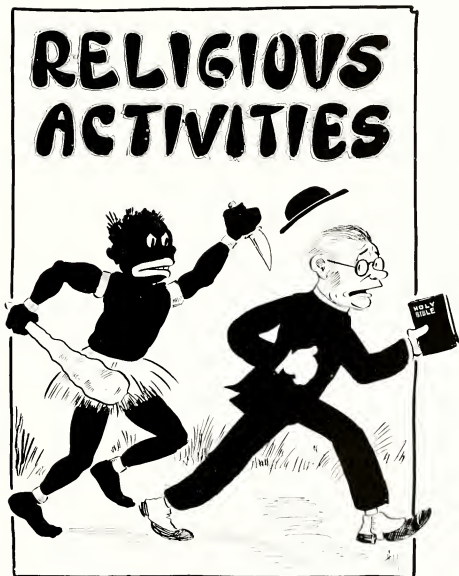

To those who are taking courses in Journalism it would offer a splendid laboratory where the practical side of the training could be given.

It would give to a number of persons a means of working their way through school, which would be a decided advantage, for under conditions as they existed this year men of the university have had great difficulty in obtaining needed work.

To the University and to all others having need for printing, great saving would result for such a plant could be run upon a very small basis of profit.

To what better use could some of our newly acquired endowment money be put?

Work of the Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. was one of the first organizations to get on a pre-war basis after the disbandment of the S. A. T. C. The work of the association has been undertaken with new vigor. There has been good attendance in all religious meetings held weekly and splendid support to every cause which the "Y" has presented to the student body.

The services of "Dad" Elliott in a three days campaign were secured by the association. These meetings might be characterized as the most successful evangelistic campaign which DePauw has experienced for many years. More than three hundred students signed a "My Covenant with God" and a large number consecrated themselves for Christian service.

There is an advisory committee composed of five Faculty members who give valuable advice and suggestions toward the management of the association. These members are Dr. Gobin, Dr. Eckardt, Dr. Blanchard, Prof. Longden and Miss Kern.

Y. W. C. A.

FIRST ROW—Ellen Studley, Frances Grose, Helen Kixmiller, Mary Mutschler, Marion Thrush.

SECOND ROW—Lelia Roth, Marie Cann, Ruth Meyers, Helen Fraley.

It is the aim of the Young Women's Christian Association to develop ideals of the highest type and to give a broad outlook upon social and religious life.

The DePauw Y. W. C. A. has been, throughout its period of organization upon the campus, a factor in that campaign in which we are all enlisted to an extent, determined by our interest for a GREATER DE PAUW. Through its work in the field of things spiritual and social the Y. W. has done much to make the real spirit of the university what it is today.

It has brought to the women of the school opportunities in the way of speakers that would not have been enjoyed had it not been for the "Y". The Y. W. parties and teas have all been enjoyable and successful affairs and through them the women of the university have been brought closer together and have shown what concerted action can accomplish in the way of betterment.

For the future, particularly next year, plans are even more comprehensive. A quick shift to pre-war conditions coupled with war time efficiency is the plan. Toward this end the officers are even now working. Their success can be assured only through the co-operation of the women already in school who are returning in the fall and through the interest shown and effort expended by the women of the next entering class.

May Day 1918

HELEN M. LAMB
Author

May Day is a day entirely devoted to the Co-eds of DePauw. As such, it is made by them a gala day to be looked forward to all of the dreary winter months. May Day this year was held on May 11th. The rain in the morning made all outdoor celebration impossible and necessitated an entire rearrangement of the day's program. The breakfast planned by the Y. W. C. A. to be served on the campus was moved hastily into the gymnasium and served there from long tables. It was here that the May Day programs were sold. The tennis finals and the track meet at McKeen field, together with the processional of classes to the Field, had to be called off.

In the afternoon the Woman's Athletic Association presented a pageant, "The Fabric of the Flag", written by Helen M. Lamb. This was to be given in the outdoor amphitheatre at Rosa Bower, but was given in the gymnasium instead on account of the rain. This pageant was patriotic in theme. Mary Royce, '18, Dean Campbell, '18 and Helen Hanna, '18, took the part of the Three Fates while June Moll, as the Spirit of Nature and Ruth Townsend as the Spirit of Liberty had the solo dances.

In the evening at 8:15 at the Little Theatre W. S. G. A. gave three one-act plays, "Overtones", by Alice Gerstenburg; "The Maker of Dreams", by Oliphant Down, and "Mothers of Men", by Percival Wilde. The plays were well presented and well received.

Rector Hall Notes

The Christmas Party at Rector Hall, held on December 18, was featured by the five-course dinner served at six o'clock in the exquisitely decorated dining room. Upperclassmen, bearing lighted tapers, sang the old Christmas carols as they entered the main hall.

In the recreation room stunts were given at 9:30 by the Freshmen, after which gifts from the tree were distributed by numbers corresponding to others held by the guests.

On the evening of the twenty-second of February all Rector Hall girls dressed either as George or Martha Washington. At ten o'clock the Freshmen entertained the upperclassmen at a Martha Washington Tea, the entertainment being furnished by a minuet, a mock boxing match, a parody on George and the cherry tree, and a playlet, "The D. P. U. Vamp". Delicious punch and cookies were served at the close of the evening.

Mansfield Hall Notes

At the first party of the year the upperclassmen entertained the Freshmen. The upperclass girls dressed as old ladies while the Freshmen were arrayed largely as "kids".

In return the Freshmen were later hostesses to the upperclassmen in an informal way. The feature of the evening was the manner of demanding a forfeit in the shape of a stunt from all the upperclassmen before they were permitted to enjoy the refreshments.

The most pretentious party of the year was the Martha Washington party held the twenty-second of February in the parlors. The rooms were decorated with red and the lights were shaded. The girls wore colonial costumes and an old-fashioned evening was spent.

Old Glory Day

Morning. Boxing took the place of the annual inter-class football contests for the morning session and, coupled with the time immemorial flag rush, put the morning program over in great style. The upperclassmen combined against the freshmen in the scrap, were easily able to hold their own about the pole and when the twenty minutes had toiled off, the colors were still floating from the top of the pole. The combination of all classes this year was the result of the unusually large number of freshmen in school because of the S. A. T. C.

Afternoon. DePauw won from St. Louis 10-6 in the football game which comprised the entire afternoon's program. The St. Louis boys came through for a touchdown early in the second period when they covered a long pass for the marker. The Tiger eleven came back strong in the last quarter and took the oval down the field for a touchdown. Smith kicked goal and just before the final whistle Burton placed a drop neatly between the goal posts and the game was ours.

Evening. The vaudeville stunts given in the gymnasium were attended by a large crowd. In keeping with the spirit of the times the military element took prominent place in the entertainment.

The program opened with a minstrel given by Company "A". Its feature, "The Antiseptic Dance of the Butterflies", by Senorita Carrie Lightfoot (alias Rolla Bon Durant) was most enthusiastically received.

W. S. G. A. followed with a musical revue entitled, "Between Retreat and Taps". The features were solos by Margery Dick and Clara Lieber and dances by Thelma McMillan and June Moll.

"Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains", was the moving picture burlesque which W. A. A. offered. Mary Gorrell in the title role scored a decided hit, while Ruth McGuffey as "Handsome Harry" made a delightfully attractive villain.

A takeoff on army life called, "Whyfore All This Whenceness" by Company "B" concluded the program. The impersonations of the officers and the Drum Major were particularly appreciated.

Founders' and Benefactors' Day

Founders' and Benefactors' Day was celebrated in an unusual manner this year when the University entertained the entire student body and faculty at a six o'clock banquet in the gymnasium. The three-course dinner was followed by an enjoyable program of toasts. Toastmaster George R. Grose first outlined the events of the million-dollar endowment campaign, successfully completed at that time, listing the individual endowments composing it, and reading messages of congratulations from the friends and alumni of the University.

President Hugh Daugherty of the Board of Trustees was the first speaker of the formal program and was followed by Mr. Edward Rector, donor of DePauw's fine dormitory. Miss Martha I. Ridpath of the class of '79 spoke for the alumni association, and Dr. Wm. M. Blanchard ably responded for the faculty. Mr. David E. Lilienthal represented the student body, pledging its earnest desire to be true to the best interests and traditions of DePauw. After an address by Bishop Nicholson, the "Toast to DePauw" closed the program.

University Parties

The regime of the Student Army Training Corps brought many new customs and upset many old traditions of the campus. The University, realizing that the social life of the students was greatly affected, instituted a series of parties at which the students, particularly the men of the S. A. T. C. were guests.

Various sorts of "get-together" parties were given each Saturday evening at the gymnasium. The orchestra and refreshments were the outstanding features of the parties, all of which were decided successes. The most novel of the entertainments were given by the Senior class and the Y. W. C. A.

DePauw School of Music

Seventy-one years ago the DePauw School of Music came into existence as part of DePauw University. James Hamilton Howe, of the New England Conservatory was named as the first Dean of the Music School, and for ten years he successfully supervised the growing school.

Upon Howe's retirement, Mrs. Belle Mansfield, of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts, became dean and devoted her all to the progress of the school. Ill health compelled her to resign after seventeen years of untiring labor.

Robert G. McCutchan succeeded Mrs. Mansfield in the deanship in 1911, and since that time the DePauw School of Music has grown to be one of the most foremost in the country. Since Dean McCutchan has been connected with DePauw a larger faculty has been employed to instruct the increasing number of students, and the standard of scholarship has been raised. A change in the required work for graduation requires the completion of one hundred twenty hours work for the degree of Bachelor of Music, a certain per cent. of which work must be in the College of Liberal Arts.

Each year many high-class artists are brought to DePauw by the music school. One of the featured programmes of this school year was the 2,500th concert given under the auspices of the school since the first recital of September 27, 1884.

Dean McCutchan, instructor of History of Music, Voice and Ear-training, and director of the University Choir, came to DePauw from Baker University in 1911. He received his degree of Mus. Bac. at Simpson College, which was followed by work in Paris and Berlin.

Too much praise cannot be given Dean McCutchan for his efforts in bringing the DePauw School of Music to the front. Through him great artists are brought to DePauw and to him belongs the credit of the success of the choir and orchestra.

CAPT. JOHN L. FRAZEE, Commandant
DEPAUW UNIT S. A. T. C.

On the morning of October first, nineteen hundred eighteen, five hundred men were inducted into the Student Army Training Corps unit at DePauw University, under the command of Captain John L. Frazee.

There was no lagging in activity, for immediately military rules were established, and the campus took on the air of a military reservation rather than anything pertaining to college environment. Six lieutenants who were graduated from Fort Sheridan were assigned to DePauw for duty. First Lieutenant Forrest P. Barrett was assigned as Adjutant and, with Captain

MILLS, SOLVBERG, SOWELL.

Frazee became popular idols. Much to the disappointment of the faculty and students Lieutenant Barrett was transferred to Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio; Lieutenant Edward C. Snyder taking his place as Adjutant.

Although the unit was in service during the short period of two months and a half, it became widely known as the best equipped, best quartered, and most efficient unit in three states, which speaks well for DePauw in view of the fact that only once since the days of the Civil War she has maintained a department of Military Science and Tactics.

Oh, the Navy, the Navy;
The 'Ristocratic Navy!

One of the outstanding features of DePauw's late but unlamented S. A. T. C. regime was the presence of a contingent of mariners.

There was almost a score of the "sea fighters" attached to the S. A. T. C. Corps and the time they were not arguing with the "Loots" about not being required by either the laws of man or the orders of Josephus Daniels to drill, they spent trying to regain lost sleep. Some of the gallant seamen were unwillingly assigned to Company "A", but the majority claimed to be musically inclined and so gained honorary membership in the batallion band. As bass drummers and symbol beaters they proved themselves musicians extraordinary.

THE S. A. T. C. BAND.

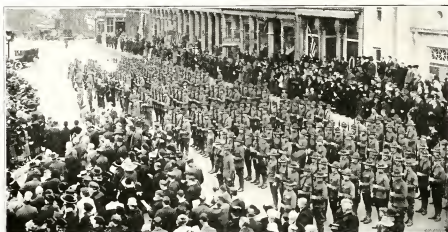

From the very beginning it was deemed necessary to form a battalion band, for the DePauw S. A. T. C. unit. With this in view, Edwin Brackett was made drum major, and L. Howard Allen was appointed bandmaster. At once a caucus was taken, through military channels, of all band men in school. Soon an organization of thirty-five men was formed, and the band became a unit in itself. The Personnel increased to forty, and the instrumentation was well balanced throughout.

Deeming it necessary to accumulate funds, for music and other expenditures, the band worked hard and long on a concert, which was given in Meharry Hall, on the evening of November 15, 1918. The concert was a great success in every way, and netted a sum of $150 to the band fund.

At the disbanding of the S. A. T. C., the band was formed into a University band, with Howard Allen as director.

Armistice Day

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER.

Armistice Day was, with the DePauw S. A. T. C., a continuous celebration. The festivities began long before daylight for the news reached us about three o'clock in the morning. At once both companies were turned out and a parade of the town was made. After the march the Unit was formed on the lawn before Rector Hall and a number of patriotic songs were sung. Just as the dawn was breaking the band played the "Star Spangled Banner", making complete a scene which shall remain long in the memory of those present.

After breakfast preparations were made for a parade. Flags of all the allied nations were procured and were escorted by an armed color guard. The parade included both the citizens of Greencastle and the S. A. T. C.

In the afternoon another demonstration was held and in the evening the festivities were continued about a big bonfire.

ON PARADE.

Company A

SERGEANTS

Company "A" was formed, upon reorganization of the unit, from the original Companies "A" and "D". The officers were Lieutenants Sessions and Sowell. Its barracks was the building formerly known as Men's Hall. Although some distance removed from the center of the campus "A" company men were never "out of things". Under the tutelage of their southern "Loots" the men in a very short while became "weal soldiers", of a calibre which did honor to DePauw and to their instructors.

NON-COMS

Company B

SERGEANTS

Company "B", formed from Companies "B" and "C", was quartered in West College Barracks. Lieutenants Solvsberg and Snyder were originally in command, but upon the departure of Lieut. Barrett and the transfer of Lieut. Snyder to the post of Adjutant, Lieut. Mills, Ordnance Officer, was assigned to the company. "B" company had the advantage of "A" in point of distance from the mess hall and this was greatly appreciated, particularly in time of bad weather.

CORPORALS

Life Here Then

Life was a merry round of reveille, toast, coffee, oatmeal, policing, calisthenics, drill, classes, horse-meat, boiled potatoes, prunes (or dried apples), BEANS, rice, more classes, drill, shoe-shining, retreat, more horse-meat, more boiled potatoes, more prunes (or dried apples), more BEANS, more rice, study, and then taps. Ditto, ditto, ditto, ad infinitum. Sometimes if the six dollars we drew lasted, we varied the above program by a visit to Lucy's. Sometimes the above program was varied for us by guard duty, K. P., or confinement.

One of the most interesting features was the assortment of Bolshevik rifles with which we drilled. After only a few weeks we became enamoured to these trusty weapons and could be parted from them (before Inspection) only by command.

The degenerating period came upon us when the girls departed for the "Flu" vacation. Then our manners slipped from us, along with our neckties, and the seats of our trousers. Plug tobacco became the style and the M. P.'s played Kelly pool.

Our evenings were made pleasant by the ministrations of Google and his pal, Fitzpatrick, who diligently shined our faces with the best quality of shoe polish or harness soap.

Oh, boy! She were a large life.

The "Y"

SECRETARY JOHN L. TAYLOR.

There was no one factor on the campus which contributed more to the welfare of the several hundred men who were enlisted in DePauw's S. A. T. C. Unit than the Y. M. C. A. Under the capable leadership of John L. Taylor, general secretary of the Y. M. organization, the work of the association was carried on at DePauw in a manner to benefit every man in the school.

Y. M. C. A. headquarters were established in the recreation room of the Bowman gymnasium. From there the association work was directed. It did not confine itself to the gym, however, but was evidenced in every part of the campus.

Secretary Taylor in civilian life had practiced law in Sullivan, Indiana, and during the war had served in Y. M. work in army camps of the West. He well understood men and the service which he rendered the members of DePauw's S. A. T. C. unit was not slight.

During the time when student soldiers were forbidden to leave the campus by quarantine regulations, Secretary Taylor was messenger, postman, and express carrier combined. It was an extraordinary day when he made fewer than fifteen trips to town. In addition to this service the recreation room of the gymnasium was stocked with magazines, files of state newspapers were kept, and camp news placed on a large bulletin board. Checker fiends and chess players were supplied with necessary equipment by the association man.

One of the entertainment features of the work accomplished by Mr. Taylor was the inauguration of camp motion picture shows. The equipment obtained through his efforts was high-class and the mid-week shows were well attended. The university motion picture shows which were begun upon the demise of the S. A. T. C. are only the continuation of the plan inaugurated by Secretary Taylor.

Special emphasis was laid upon the religious work by the association leader. Sunday school classes were organized in the two barracks and classes held on Sunday morning were attended by approximately one hundred men. Whenever it was possible, church services were held following the early service.

Results

From the Student Army Training Corps regime DePauw has received many real benefits. The physique of the men in the University was greatly improved. The long hours of drill and the outdoor life were the things long needed to straighten the kinks out of student backs and put a snap and precision into student gaits. Although there was much grumbling at the time, the work was nevertheless done and the good was accomplished.

The excellence of our football team was due in large measure to the regular hours, the plain but substantial food, and the regular exercise compelled by the army life. The training to concerted action on the part of both the teammen and the rooters also had its influence. The team was supported last fall as it had never been before, and the result can be seen in the season's record.

Another and more delicate benefit received was the psychic one of feeling that the University and the men in it were back of the government to any limit which might be set. To feel that one is a member of such a school, and to know that both the school and one's companions are ready to "carry on" straight to the end, gives satisfaction immeasurable.

A closer feeling between campus organizations has also resulted. The barracks was the common chapter house and all were brothers in the Fraternity of Khaki. This condition is a lasting betterment.

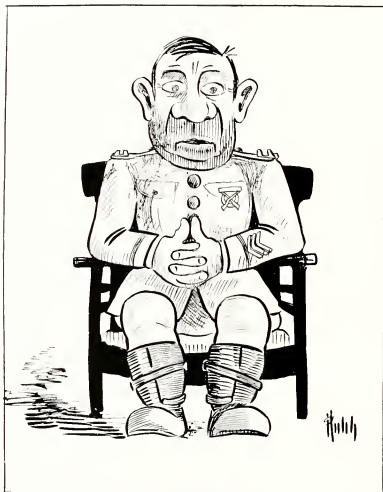

For the S. A. T. C., even admitting its faults and shortcomings, we can be truly thankful.

JOKES.

Prof. Thompson in discussing the operas of Richard Wagner, in Musical Appreciation class, said, "Parsifal is Wargner's greatest opera, but it is too long for the people of modern times. Why, it is so long that it has to be given in two parts, one part being given in the afternoon and the other in the evening, because people get hungry in the middle and have to get their dinners".

Oh Captain! My Captain!
Our fearful trip is done.

The motto which we believe hangs in the Deke house:

"Don't study in the morning,
Don't study in the night,
But study at all other times,
With all your main and might".

"Cap" Frazee—"This Civil War rifle could be fired all day at a couple hundred yards and only hit your man once, in all probability".

Canup (sizing up the gun)—"Well, I guess that would be about all that would be necessary".

SPRING FEVER.

From the slumbering in the classroom,
One would think that spring has come;
But the all-pervading ennui,
Comes in winter just the same.

THIS IS

THEY GO.

BUT—

Binks—"Well, the evening wore on".

Jinks—"I want to know what the evening wore on".

“Grandpa, what did you do during the World War?”

Grandpa shifted his quid of gum to the other side of his mouth, stuck his half-finished bit of tatting back in his sewing basket, and beckoned to his little grandson to climb his knee, first being sure that his trousers were pulled down to the tops of his Congress gaiters.

“My boy,” he began, curing a sudden break in his voice with a perfumed Luden cough drop, “did you ever hear, in your history class, of Mr. George Washington, and the terrible winter at Valley Forge?”

“Oh, yes, Grandpa—and how they lived without food or clothing or pay or anything through the whole winter.”

“My boy,”—and at the recollection of the experiences he was about to relate, tears streaked down the old man’s face, furrowing the talcum powder on it, “your old grandfather during the entire period of the war, served without getting any pay, or enough food, or enough covering—. Yes, do you know, my lad, that your grandfather”, and here the old man’s pride exceeded his lacrimosity, and he drew himself up so that he nearly split his lace collar, “NEVER EVEN GOT A UNIFORM until hostilities had ceased!”

The little fellow looked at his grandfather’s face, made almost masculine in the subdued glow of the fire-place, and in an awed voice whispered, “What part of the army were you in, grandfather?”

“The S. A. T. C., my son,” the old man said, his face distorted with the horror of the memory.

You may think that I'm wrong,
That I'm "kidding" you 'long,
But—I was a Freshman last year.

When the Seniors o'erride you,
For your lessons to chide you,

If their books you must carry,
Or their errands—don't tarry,
But march right along like a lamb.

If the Juniors neglect you,
And always suspect you,
And for everything done you're accused,
Just swallow your troubles,
As if they were bubbles,
And try to forget you're abused.

Tho' the Sophomores may snub you,
Think they've got something on you,
Keep a stiff upper lip thru the day,
When the world is like lead,
And you wish you were dead,
Just remember these words that I say:

That there never could be
On land or on sea,
In earth or in Heaven, alas,
A B.S. or A.B.,
An A.M., Ph.D.,
Were it not for your own Freshman class

Photographer

The Cammack Studio has an enviable reputation throughout the state. Mr. Cammack came to Greencastle, Nov. 4, 1895. His first "Mirage" work was during the winter of '96. Mr. Paul Poynter, now of Sullivan, Indiana, was Editor, and Prof. F. C. Tilden was Business Manager. From that year until the present, Mr. Cammack has done the major part of the photographic work for every "Mirage" published. Your engraver says the work sent him this year by The Cammack Studio is the best he has ever received for engraving purposes.
